

FOLLOW YOUR CURIOSITY: LEARN THROUGH EXPERIENCE

Hands-On Learning, In and Out of the Classroom

We've designed the political science degree around hands-on learning experiences, with the TLU campus and the City of Seguin as your classroom for developing leadership skills and becoming an engaged citizen. Seguin's small size means that you will meet and work directly with policymakers and business professionals to address key local problems. At the same time, Seguin is growing, presenting new opportunities for students to leverage their expertise to make real, meaningful change in the community.

Political science majors work on these civically engaged projects while developing their moral, ethical, and critical thinking frameworks. TLU's program is accessible, with key experiential learning opportunities built right into the curriculum, meaning you will gain experience as part of your coursework.

Internships are Part of Your Degree Plan

Our degree plans are individualized and flexible, meaning that every student completes an internship and works with their advisor to customize their learning and carry them toward their chosen career. Many of our students convert their internships into jobs that they start immediately upon graduation.

We have a wide variety of internship connections in the area, and we help you gain skills in identifying, vetting, and applying for various internship opportunities. We offer personalized advising and support through our CIVIC Club so that you are prepared to apply for jobs in the future. Our focus is on building a career through your internship, which is an integral part of your customized degree plan.

Our Grads Speak for Themselves

Our individualized advising approach helps match students' aspirations with their career plans. We place students at some of the highest ranked law schools in the nation while helping those who want to practice in Texas join local legal networks that help them gain admission and maximize their scholarship opportunities. Our pre-law program is not just pre-law school. Our graduates work in a variety of legal-related fields. They also work in public policy and administration in state and local government and serve elected legislators.

TLU Alumni Where Are They Now?

Throughout my time at TLU, I had the fortune of being mentored by exceptional professors. I delved into courses on social inequality, political theory, research methods, and more, all of which equipped me with the knowledge and skills necessary to navigate the complex landscape of our society. The lessons learned at TLU have not only shaped my academic pursuits but have also guided me toward a purpose-driven career path.
